

NASHVILLE UNION AND DISPATCH.

VOL. XXXIII.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE, SUNDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1866.

NO. 7

NEWS OF THE DAY.

During November 1,866 emigrants from Europe, arrived at Baltimore.

Navigation on the upper Mississippi is about closed for the season. The Government officially disclaims the action of General Sedwick in occupying Matamoros. A Washington correspondent, writing from New Jersey, is talked of by the citizens of Plainfield, New Jersey.

The British regular force within the fortifications of Dublin is estimated at eighteen thousand men.

Thanksgiving day seems to have been generally observed in all the cities and towns throughout the West.

It is reported among billiard men that a match is about being made between Dudley Kavanagh and Joseph Dion, for a purse of $50,000.

New York dispatches state that a propeller loaded with Fenian arms sailed from Sandy Hook on Thursday night for Ireland.

A monument to the memory of soldiers from Dutchess county, New York, was dedicated on the 25th ult., at the village of Madalen, with impressive ceremonies.

The trial of the robbers of the train on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad at Franklin, Ky., has been postponed until the 10th of December.

John C. Beckwith is petitioning for pardon, and claims that the general terms of surrender awarded to Lee and Johnson included him.

Our Government, it is stated, has received information from Italy, stating that the Pope has resolved not to leave Rome, but will trust to the protection of King Victor Emmanuel.

A private letter from London says Secretary Seward's dispatch to Sir Frederick Bruce in regard to the Fenian prisoners, has awakened belligerent feelings in Tory circles.

It has been discovered by the investigating committee recently in session at Washington, that $300,000 worth of cotton has been seized by Government agents in the South, and that not more than a tenth of the amount has been realized by the Treasury of the United States.

A Galveston, Texas, dispatch of the 30th ult., says: It is not true that Gen. Sedwick crossed the Rio Grande with troops. The report originated from some dispatches from Sheridan to Helmsman, disapproving certain acts of the commander of the sub-district of the Rio Grande. The Rev. Mr. Hamer, a member of the Presbyterian Assembly, was deposed into a gambling hell in Memphis on the evening of the 25th ult., and, after being dragged, was robbed of three hundred dollars.

There was to have been a great racing match at Indianapolis yesterday between Red Buck of Indiana, and Lady Walker of Canada. The match was for $5,000 under saddle. Both horses have fine reputations for speed.

The Boston Journal states that Ex-Governor Boutwell, in a lecture at Lewiston, Maine, two weeks ago, said President Johnson and Mr. Seward had known for more than a year, that John Suratt had gone to Rome and enlisted in the Army of the Pope. This statement was made before the announcement that Suratt had been demanded, given up and had escaped from custody.

A collision occurred between a passenger and freight train on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, near Corinth, Miss., on the 25th ult. Henry Slater, the conductor, three white men, and four freedmen were killed instantly. The baggage and express cars took fire, consuming the contents, together with the mail and the bodies of the killed. Mr. Jones, the baggage-master, was caught by the baggage, and, although unhurt, was burned to death, the passengers being unable to render any assistance, owing to the heat. Three freight cars, one second-class passenger car, and two engines were destroyed. No other passengers were injured. The accident resulted from running behind time.

EXCHANGES PAPERS FROM BOSTON TO NEW ORLEANS reaching this table, speak of stagnation in business. The whole system of exchanging commodities for money values is out of gear and working badly. Whether this state of things is due to the unsettled political condition, the operations of speculators and stock-jobbers, the deficiency in supply of great staples, or quackish attempts to accommodate the laws of trade to the necessities of a redundant currency with which the Government has too much to do, we do not pretend to say. Doubtless all of these have more or less influence in producing the result. It is a fact, however, that business is languishing, and that there is a general decline in values. To the great mass with whom the cost of living is a prime consideration, it becomes a question whether the prices of the necessities of life have come down in proportion. The new year is at hand, and prudent men are beginning to make their calculations for another twelvemonth. How is it with meat and bread? How about cloths and calico? How about hats and bonnets, and boots and shoes? How about wood and coal? Are the middle men—those who deal between the producer and the wholesale dealer and the consumer, reducing their selling prices? How about rents? Circumstances are compelling reductions in prices. They are reducing the wages of laborers and the salaries of employees of all kinds, and if people who "sell things" expect to get them off their hands without considerable loss, they will act wisely to accommodate themselves to the downward tendency. Everything will result better if all hands come down together.

N. P. Willis, it is said, is now passing away. He has not appeared at any of the places he is accustomed to frequent in New York for some weeks, but has been confined to his residence on the Hudson, by his feeble health.

LATEST TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

FROM NEW YORK.

Hoboken Bank Fraud—Mexican News.—From Paraguayan Sent of War—Consul of Dr. Padesteln—Washington News, etc.

New York, Dec. 1.—The Herald's Dublin correspondence, Nov. 17th, says the wants and miseries of the inhabitants under British rule, are set forth as constituting the exciting cause of a revolutionary outbreak, which the writer seemed to anticipate.

In the case of the alleged Hoboken bank frauds, Judge Daly of the Court of Common Pleas, yesterday denied the motion of the defendant's counsel for the discharge of his client, Geo. W. Chadwick, from arrest. The case has been postponed several times to accommodate the defendant, and yesterday, on the calling of the calendar, no answer coming from defendant's counsel, Charles Wehle moved for a default, which was granted.

There were 1,249 votes registered in the city yesterday; this, in addition to the number registered at the general election, makes a total of 126,141 voters in this city.

A match at billiards was played at Irving Hall last night, between Goldthwait, of Boston, and McDevitt, for $500 a side, in which Goldthwait came out winner.

The Herald Mexican correspondence, dated Chihuahua, Nov. 7th, says: The policy of Juarez regarding the Mexicans who have served in the Imperial armies—and who may fall into his hands after the final embarkation of the French, is slightly hinted at in a communication of the Secretary of War of the Mexican Republic—Gen. Pavar, at Juixfin. The Secretary disapproves in strong language, of the wholesale pardons to such persons. Certain documents are published officially by the Juarez Government, which throw a flood of light upon Ortega's operations. The latter has granted the privileges of coining Mexican money in San Francisco to a citizen of New York. Juarez being requested by the same individual to ratify the permission of Ortega, it was promptly refused.

The news from the seat of war in Paraguay, is dated Rio Janeiro, October 29. In addition to the change of commanders in the Brazilian army, which was reported in the Herald a few days ago, a new commander has been appointed to the fleet in place of Admiral Viscount Pamandre. A levy of twenty-five thousand men in Brazil is demanded, but the recruits are coming in but slowly.

The loss of the allies at fort Curahaty, is now reported to be 7,000, besides three iron clads being seriously damaged. The allied army, it was rumored, would fall back on Corrientz.

The National Exhibition at Rio Janeiro opened on the 19th of October. The exhibition is intended to display the products of that favored country. The Emperor and Empress, and the Prince and the Princess, accompanied by a large suit, attended the opening.

Further heavy duties have been imposed on the distillers of rum, in Jamaica, by the Legislature of that island. But little margin for profit remains with the business under the new tax.

There will be, in the future no direct communication between Kingston and the United States, except by transient carrying vessels.

A screw steamer, named the Bolivar, reached Laguayra, Venezuela, on the 13th of October, having been fitted out in England for the Venezuelan navy. It was manned with Englishmen, who insisted on being retained as its crew, and on finding that they would not be retained, they set sail with the Bolivar, and have not since been heard from.

Dr. Padesteln has been censured by the board of health for neglecting to report the prevalence of typhoid fever in the deaf and dumb asylum.

It is likely that a hospital will be established on the Battery for those suffering from typhus fever.

A Washington special says: Judge Carter, of the Supreme Court, will deliver the address of welcome at the mass reception of Congress.

There have been two hundred and twenty-nine resignations of clerks in the Treasury Department during the past year, mostly on account of inadequate salaries. A strong effort will be made to have Congress increase these salaries.

The estimated receipts of revenue for the next fiscal year instead of being $600,000,000, as has been published, are really less than $450,000,000.

The Secretary of the Treasury will not recommend the issue of any five per cent bonds as stated, and will indicate the time at which, in his judgment, the resumption of specie payments can be safely effected. It is hoped that this may be done in eight or ten months, but hopes for an earlier date.

A Hartford special says: Mr. Leach, grocer, of that city, was stabbed four times on Thursday night in an encounter with a burglar. The robber escaped.

A Memphis special says: By the collision on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, yesterday, the conductor, three whites, and four freedmen, were instantly killed. The baggage and express cars took fire, consuming the contents, together with the mail and the bodies of the killed. Mr. Jones, the baggage-master, was caught by the baggage, and, although unhurt, was burned to death. Three flat cars, a second-class passenger car and two engines were destroyed. The accident resulted from running behind time.

The New York Times Washington special says: The President's message has been delivered to the agent of the associated press, to be sent to the leading journals of the country. Copies for the New York and Philadelphia presses, however, has been entrusted with special messengers, who will deliver them when the reading of the document is commenced in Congress.

The World's special insists that its summary of the Secretary of the Treasury's report, published a few days since, was made up from the books and was entirely correct. The Herald's Washington special says, Morrill, of Maine, it is understood, will immediately on the assembling of Congress, introduce a bill bestowing the privilege of suffrage upon the freedmen of this District, and will energetically insist on an early vote on it.

It is said to be his purpose to have this new law in full force before the next municipal election in this city. It was Senator Morrill who introduced, and carried through the bill emancipating the slaves of this District.

Secretary McCulloch is desirous that Congress should enact a clear law, making it distinctly understood that the United States are pledged to redeem the principal as well as the interest on its bonds in gold; but knowing the opposition which all his measures meet in that body, he will not directly propose it. In another form, however, it is not unlikely that this, and several other measures he has on foot, will be brought to the attention of Congress at the proper time.

The Post's Washington special says: No definite action will be taken at the Republican caucus to-night, as many members are still absent.

The Commercial's Washington special says: Secretary Seward has not yet received any answer by the cable to his long dispatch to Minister Bigelow at Paris, directing him to remonstrate against the delay in recalling the French troops from Mexico. It is anticipated that Louis Napoleon is not likely to be satisfied with the energetic tone of Mr. Seward's dispatch, much as he may desire to get out of the Mexican scrape.

There will be a warm struggle between the Executive and legislative branches of the Government for the control of the entire Revenue Department, with a view to the possession of the spoils of the office. The Republicans will therefore attempt to detach this office from the control of the President. With this view, Judge Kelly, of Philadelphia, is preparing a bill to substitute for the present Internal Revenue Bureau, a Department of Revenue under a commissioner to be appointed by Chief Justice Chase, who is to be authorized to make all subordinate appointments.

A special dispatch to the Commercial and Advertiser, from Richmond on the 1st inst., says at a meeting of the leading citizens of the Peninsula county, Virginia, at Williamsburg, resolutions were unanimously adopted declaring that the Legislature, which meets on Monday, should immediately call a convention to frame a new constitution, adapted to the new order of society; and to relieve the people of their present indebtedness in ratio to their present property, or it would be a shame to make their successors bear the losses by the war. It is understood that Gov. Pierpont will recommend the adoption of the constitutional amendment in his message.

FROM CANADA.

St. Alban's Celebration—Fenian Prisoners Probably Rescued.

TORONTO, C. W., Dec. 1st.—St. Alban's day was celebrated here quietly with a sermon and supper in the evening.

Chief Justice Richards in the Court of Common Pleas, announced yesterday that judgment would be given to-day in the case of the Fenian Stevin.

There was no motion made of application on behalf of McMahon in the Court of Queen's Bench; but this being the last day of the term, the decision is expected to-day; also, it is understood, that the Fenians recently sentenced to death in this city, will probably be respite for three months, to wait the result of the appeals in their behalf before the courts.

A force of volunteers has been ordered to Sweetburg during the Fenian trials. A part of them from Montreal and the remainder from the Bedford battalion which now numbers twelve companies. All the local companies are warned to be in readiness for service.

D. Aracy McJee, in a recent speech, referring to the convicted Fenians, said, these men deserve death, but the spirit of the times is so opposed to capital punishment, where any other punishment can reach the case; and in these cases I hope it may be found possible to temper justice with mercy.

St. Andrew's day passed off with great zeal. Sermons were preached in the churches, and a concert and speeches occupied the evening.

The President stated that the Secretary had expended $18,000 during the last ten years in affording assistance to distressed countrymen.

CONFIRMED, C. W., Dec. 1st.—The town was lighted last night with the new gas made from pine wood, bones, and other refuse vegetable and animal matter. The light was quite brilliant, surpassing that manufactured from coal, which had been previously used, while it will be more economical.

BELLEVILLE, C. W., Dec. 1st.—A large number of persons continue to visit the gold regions, and prospecting is going on lively. A California miner professes himself satisfied with the show, and rumors are rife of the discovery of the precious metal in other sections of the back country.

FOREIGN NEWS.

By the Cable.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—A gun boat left Sheerness yesterday and another will leave to-day—their destination is Ireland. They carry with them a large supply of arms and ammunition to be used in the suppression of the Fenian outbreak. No more arrests have been made.

LONDON, Dec. 1st.—It is reported on good authority that Mr. Bigelow, the United States Minister at Paris, accidentally read to Napoleon, in person, a very grave and decided dispatch from Secretary Seward. This dispatch, so the report goes, implicitly required France to fulfill the engagements she had entered into with regard to the Mexican question. The Emperor, however, made no reply. Queen Victoria and suite went to Wolsey to-day where she took the chief part, in the ceremony of erecting a statue of Prince Albert. There were immense crowds of people present who extended an enthusiastic welcome to the Queen.

There is a vague rumor that the Chief Organizer Stevens lately arrived in Paris, and is now secreted there.

LONDON, Dec. 1st.—The famous Monastauk and other vessels belonging to the United States navy, are riding at anchor in this harbor. It is ascertained that they will sail in a few days, though their destination is unknown.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 1st.—The steamer Jav, which sailed from Boston on the 21st, arrived here this morning.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

Indians Reported Troublesome in Idaho—Value of Bullion Produced, etc.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Up to Wednesday afternoon fourteen bodies from the wreck of the Costa had washed ashore, Captain Paige, Dr. Rowden and Mrs. Pearson among them.

Advices from Idaho to Nov. 17th, report the Indians very troublesome.

The Revenue Collector of Idaho reports the value of bullion product from January 1st to November 1st at $1,073,256 in currency.

Ship Silas Granger, which put into this port in distress, has been ordered to discharge cargo for examination by the agent of the underwriters, and will probably be condemned.

The Central Pacific Railroad has been completed to Cisco, ninety-three miles from Sacramento, twelve and one-half miles from Sierra Nevada, 5,911 feet above the level of the sea.

Mexican Affairs—Bamors.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 1st.—The Galveston Bulletin of the 29th contains the following: The city was full of rumors yesterday in reference to Mexican affairs, no doubt induced by the arrival of Lieut. Taylor with dispatches, and the departure of the steamer Elizabeth Read with the return bearer of dispatches. We are assured by those who know that the matter has no reference to the French, but we are not informed as to what it does refer. The Government is not accustomed to sending off private steamers, as in this case, except upon business of importance. Considerable obscurity hangs over this as well as all other Mexican matters.

An increasing disposition is manifested for the South to admit qualified negro suffrage; but violent attacks are made on these papers that do not directly oppose it. Even ultra Union papers, not edited by negroes, go against it.

Virginia Legislation.

RICHMOND, Dec. 1st.—The Virginia Legislature meets on Monday, and numbers of members are arriving. The prominent topic of conversation among them is the action taken at a meeting of influential citizens of the Peninsula, held at Williamsburg on Monday, urging upon them the necessity of calling a State Convention as early as practicable to revise the Constitution and adopt it to the altered condition of things.

A gentleman named M. L. Manry, was shot and killed in the street this morning by a negro.

Republican Jollification.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 1st.—The Republicans of this city celebrated their triumph in the late elections, by a supper last evening. A large number of prominent members of the party were present. A regular set of toasts were read, and responses made by Gov. Ward, Senator Frelinghuysen, Hon. John Hill and George A. Halsey, members of Congress from the fourth and fifth districts. Letters were also read from other distinguished members of the party who were unable to attend.

Pay of Members of North Carolina Legislature.

RALEIGH, N. C., December 1st.—In the North Carolina Senate, Mr. Wiggins, of Halifax, introduced and carried a resolution allowing officers of the Legislature ten dollars, and members six. It was amended by substituting four dollars.

Sentences.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1st.—In the Court of Oyer and Terminer, to-day, Judge Allison sentenced Norman Champion to be hung for the murder of Mary Carney, in a house of ill-fame last summer. Wm. H. Maguin, who killed a girl named Maggie Baer at the Continental Theater, about two years since, was sentenced to eight years solitary confinement. The sentence was made light on account of the alleged insanity of prisoner.

THE FENIANS.

Excitement in St. Louis—Stephen's Headquarters—Arms Shipped for Ireland—Projected Revolution.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 29.—The city is quite lively with the movement among the Fenians here. Considerable contributions of money and arms are being received at Stephen's headquarters. Reorganization of circles is rapidly progressing, and a good many men are joining military organizations.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The Tribune says it is certain that Mr. James Stephens has left the city for parts unknown in company with several of his followers and adherents. There is no unusual excitement.

Col. Kelly returned some days since from unknown parts, and has observed a very quiet reticence ever since.

It is understood in Fenian circles that a vessel was sent out of Sandy Hook at a late hour on Tuesday evening with four hundred revolvers and two hundred Enfield rifles for the Irish shores. The arms were conveyed to the vessel on a harbor tug and immediately she was discovered bearing out. It is probable that some of the arms were conveyed from Port Mannmouth and some came originally from Phryx (?). The vessel was said to be a Phryx propeller, with her original name painted out to avoid discovery, and a sign with the words "Young Republic" covering the place where the original letter were painted.

In the city of Dublin there are stationed at present 18,000 regular troops, housed in the various strong barracks and fortifications of the city. To drive those out it will be necessary to land and organize 35,000 Fenians who must be thoroughly armed and organized. It is more than possible, however, that within ten days an insurrection will break out in Ireland, and as a consequence, much blood will be shed, with, however, but one possible result, the defeat of the gallant fellows who may raise the standard of revolt.

In the meantime a diversion in Canada is to be expected from what is going on at the Roberts headquarters. Within ten days orders have been received by President Roberts and Gen. Spear for 8,000 uniforms from the different circles. The money for such uniforms in every instance accompanying orders. The armories are busy fitting up and furnishing sabres, and it is certain that all this preparation portends bloody work for some person or persons unknown. President Roberts is at his office from day to day without any rest or cessation of labor.

The daily News says several prominent officers of Col. Roberts' staff waited on Col. Kelley, the deputy commander, yesterday, pledging themselves to co-operate with the main body as soon as the order was given.

TRIAL OF THE MONTREAL PRISONERS.

MONTREAL, Nov. 29.—Arrangements for the removal of the Fenian prisoners from the jail in this city to Swainsburg are completed. The prisoners will be accompanied by a strong guard.

Great fears are entertained of a raid from the Vermont frontier to Swainsburg to release the prisoners.

Judge Johnson, the presiding judge during the trials, informed the Crown authorities that he would not set in court after 4 o'clock P. M., unless a strong force of regulars were stationed in the village.

The greatest excitement is manifested in the city over the news of an outbreak in Ireland. The leading Irishmen of the city had a grand banquet at the American Hotel this evening.

The bill authorizing the Governor to issue new bonds in lieu of those outstanding bonds which may be defunct or mutilated, or otherwise impaired in value, came up on its first reading, and after being discussed for a little, was referred to a special committee.

The passage of corporation bills completed the business of the forenoon, when the House adjourned until 9 o'clock on Monday morning.
